is proud to host the following parent training:

Building Resilient Families:

Strategies for Parenting Siblings with Different Needs

Presented by Debby Gill, LMFT and special needs parent

"Why does my brother have different rules than me?"
"Will I have to take care of my sister when I get older?"
"Why can't my brother be normal?"

How would you answer these questions? Parenting siblings with different needs is challenging to say the least. We are excited to welcome Debby right before Christmas break to share her expertise on how to make our families more resilient. She will give constructive advice on how to answer difficult questions along with strategies to help keep the peace at home.
